

LABEL HOLDERS

By the warehouse identification & marking specialists

ASG Services' range of label holders, ensure lasting performance and durability. Our customers are leaders in their field and expect high standards, so we test and assure that our holders compliment the quality and performance of our barcode label products.

All types of label holders are available from stock or as special orders, tailored to individual needs.

Clear plastic self-adhesive holders are manufactured from tough PVC with an adhesive strip on the reverse which makes them easy to fit on most clean and smooth surfaces. All are designed to be durable and withstand the frequent changes of labels expected in industrial environments.

Magnetic plastic label holders are essentially the same as the adhesive range but supplied with a magnetic strip on the reverse. This makes them ideal for temporary use on steel shelving and racking.

The classic magnetic card holder is produced from a unique extruded material, formed as a 'C' profile in which tickets or labels can be secured quickly, for location and product identification, on steel shelves and racking.

We manufacture all types of warehouse labels and inserts and as a custom specialist, we can create labels specifically for use in the label holders. If you have a requirement for barcode reference labels, please contact us for more information and prices.
